

From direct to indirect

"The people have decided."

He said the people had decided.

"If it's good for the country, I'd immediately resign.

He said that if it were good for the country, he would immediately resign.

"Can anyone guarantee that everyone will not fight? If so, I will (resign).

He said that if anyone could guarantee that everyone would not fight, he would (resign).

"If politics is applied alone, the protest would last for another seven years."

He said that if politics were applied alone, the protest would last for another seven years.